this deposition, did you on your own reviewany documents?

A. Yes, I reviewed a handful of documents that are standard with our program.
 O. Okay Can you tell me which

Q. Okay. Can you tell me which ones they are?

A. Can I ask a clarifying

guestion? Can you repeat -- do the documents

⁹ that had already -- documents that haven't been produced? Anything in addition to ¹¹ what --

Q. That would be a swell place to start.

A. You know, as I think about

¹⁵ things that I've reviewed, it's standard

¹⁶ operating manuals and procedures, and I think

17 likely all that -- that stuff is part of what

18 was produced, so I don't --

¹⁹ Q. That's actually not a very fair ²⁰ way to place it because you probably haven't

²³ A. No. No.

Q. So let's talk about it in a

¹ anything stored on MCK.NET, our intra -- the

Q. I just wanted to say MCK.NET.

A. MCK.NET, yeah.

Q. Did you review documents that were on your personal computer -- that's a bad question.

Did you review documents that are located on your hard drive of your computer?

A. My work computer?

12 Q. Yes.

13

A. Yes.

Q. Would those documents also have been on the server?

A. Could you clarify "server"?

⁷ Q. Yeah. So in general, when you

¹⁸ have a network of computers, sometimes

⁹ there's a central repository where

²⁰ everybody's computer can pull up files from,

and then there's also on your own computer a

²² hard drive that nobody else can look at,

²³ except you, from your computer station.

⁴ A. I understand that, sir, but

²⁵ I -- you know, in terms of the shared

Q. I'm assuming at some point in time your counsel provided you some documents

4 that they culled through based upon the legal

⁵ documents, and that, arguably, has been the

⁶ subject of some debate between the lawyers on

⁷ whether that list is producible or not.

Aside from that, did you

⁹ independently go and review anything on your

10 own, document-wise, to prepare for today?

A. Document-wise? You know, I

12 looked at files of mine, you know, just, you

13 know, what I -- what I have in my own, you

14 know, storage on things that I've done or projects that I've been on and reviewed just

¹⁶ a variety of different pieces of information

¹⁷ that personally I have.

Q. Where would those files be

19 located?

11

A. On my computer, whether it be

²¹ e-mails or in documents on my standard

storage on my computer.
 Would it be docu

Q. Would it be documents from 25

A. I don't think there was

¹ repository that we use in regulatory affairs,

Page 29

² yes, there's documents stored on there that

³ I've reviewed.

Q. What about documents on your personal hard drive on your office computer?

A. Yes, I store documents on my personal office computer.

Q. And those documents you reviewed prior to today's deposition?

MS. HENN: Objection to form.

THE WITNESS: There are some documents.

QUESTIONS BY MR. FARRELL:

Q. Did you rely on any of those documents or did any of those documents refresh your recollection about the subject matters of today's deposition?

A. I used --

MS. HENN: Objection to form.

Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: I used them to refresh.

Knowing what you know as the 30(b)(6) representative, the corporate designee, knowing about your past conduct, knowing about the past interactions with the DEA, I'm going to ask you again: Does McKesson Corporation accept partial responsibility for the societal costs of prescription drug abuse in America? MS. HENN: Objection to form. THE WITNESS: Again, you know, I we're part of the closed system, so we're responsible for preventing diversion. QUESTIONS BY MR. FARRELL: Q. So the answer is?

We had a monthly accumulation. If they placed an individual order over that amount, it omits. But if there's still room -- for example, if they have a threshold of 10,000 and they tried to place an order of 11,000 but hadn't purchased any for that month, they still have that 10,000 monthly threshold that they could order the -accumulate against the next day.

QUESTIONS BY MR. FARRELL:

Let's go back to the other spreadsheet, which should be May of 2011. 83 orders in one month for oxycodone from one pharmacy. Let's go all the way to the bottom and see what the last ²⁰ date is.

May 26, May 26, May 25th. I mean, it looks like there's 1,800 oxy 30s on 23 May 25th. 24

Oxy 30s are the number one ²⁵ abused pill in America, and you distributed Page 361
